

WHAT A PLACE!

Camp staff are trained in the tenets of applied behavior analysis for the purpose of teaching during camp activities. Teaching targets include social skills, play, animal care, crafts, and games.

Midnight Farm is situated on 40 acres and features a 20,000 square foot, multipurpose facility, including a rustic meeting lodge, a bunk house, an equestrian facility/arena, and a barn. Outside the barn are paddocks, petting areas for animals, walking and horseback riding trails, a fishing pond, and picnic areas.

Come meet Midnight Farm's "board of directors", including:

"Chance" and "Cocoa" the paint horses
 "Bandit" the spotted donkey
 "Cody" the fainting goat
 "Ramoondo" and "Ivan", the alpacas
 and "Buster" the pony

DAY CAMP FOR KIDS WITH AUTISM

Monday-Thursday
(9:00am to 4:00pm)

Cost: $380 per child

CAMP TWO

JULY 7th - JULY 10th

DAY CAMP FOR KIDS WITH AUTISM AND TRAINING FOR PARENTS

Tuesday - Friday
(9:00am to 4:00pm)

Kids go to camp while parents learn empirically-based techniques for reducing problem behavior and teaching skills such as communication, social skills, self-care, play, and hobbies. Parents practice skills with their children and receive feedback from trainers during parts of the camp day.

Cost: $380 per child

Parent training is free of charge if parents have a child attending camp.

The cost is $80 for a parent of a child with autism who wishes to attend training but does not have a child at camp.

An additional fee may be added if the camper
requires 1:1 support

Additional fee for supported horseback riding with a NARHA certified instructor.
